HUMANITARIANISM

Helping people in crisis?

CMI CHR. MICHELSEN INSTITUTE

Conflicts and crisis have forced more than 65 million people worldwide to leave their homes. This is the highest number of displaced persons the world has ever seen.

We study the mechanisms that force people to flee, the obstacles they meet on the way, and how they are treated when they try to get access to a new country.

We work in inter-disciplinary teams, and have a solid track-record in both academic and commissioned work, and evaluations.

In particular, we study how laws and courts are used as parts of an active strategy to improve the lives of poor and marginalized people.
